High School Band to Play
Before and After Talk By President Roosevelt

A mass meeting in front of the Pickaway county courthouse next Saturday evening, at which time the address of President Roosevelt accepting his party's nomination for a second term will be broadcast, is planned by all Pickaway county Democratic organizations working under direction of Lawrence Goeller, executive chairman.
Officers of executive and central committees and the Young Democratic Club met in the American Hotel party headquarters Friday evening to draft plans. The women's organization will be asked to participate with Mrs. J. B. Cromley of Walnut township the chairman, in charge.

Speaks at 9 o'clock
There will be no local address.
Amplifiers will be placed in advantageous places. The address of acceptance is expected to start at 9 o'clock Circleville time.
The high school band will be on hand to play a program before and after the address.

"Every committee will have a chance to show its loyalty in Saturday's meeting," Mr. Goeller said Saturday.

Four Children Survive As 12 Drown in Lake

Maine Authorities Contemplate Criminal Action After Boat
Capsizes During Vacation Celebration Friday; Youthful
Teacher is Heroine as Parents Watch

MACHIAS, Me., June 20.—(UP)— Authorities contemplated
criminal action today against the owner of a small boat that capsized in Gardner's lake yesterday, drowning 12 children.
O. F. Larson, county medical examiner, said the boat, a 13-foot outboard motor craft, was so "shamefully" overloaded with 16 children that it shipped water enough to sink the first time it banked on a turn.

The boat overturned in 10 feet of water scarcely 25 yards from shore but only one of the children, ranging in age from 8 to 17, was able to swim. Three others were rescued, the rest sank before rescuers could reach them. They were part of 90 children from schools of Lubec, West Lubec and North Lubec, 22 miles north, celebrating the first day of their summer vacation. Four teachers and approximately 100 parents and adult friends accompanied them.

Operator Crippled
Kelly London, 56, owner of the boat, was operating it. He is a cripple and is a favorite among Lubec children.

With 16 children aboard, he just had gotten away from shore
when the boat overturned. A scream in unison from all 16, cut short by the water closing over their heads, called all the crowd
ashore to the lake's grassy bank.
The boat remained afloat, though overturned.

London and two children clung to the boat. The other children threwed desperately, screamed,
then one by one sank.
Miss Stella Burnee, a 23-year-old teacher, was heroine of the tragedy. She was sitting in an automobile near the shore. Before any one else in the shore crowd

ALIENS ASSAILED IN HOPKINS' NEW RELIEF PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, June 20.—
(UP)—The Works Progress Administration set out today to purge federal work-relief rolls of 120,000 aliens illegally in this country.

They must be discharged from their government jobs as soon as after June 30 as Administrator
Harry L. Hopkins starts spending the new $1,425,000,000 fund, and face possible deportation in wholesale numbers.

The move represented a complete change in relief policy. Under the current $4,000,000,000 program, WPA gave relief to aliens
as well as citizens.

Hopkins will follow this course
in dismissing work-relief job-holders who have no legal right in the country;

1. President Roosevelt will use part of the new money financing
a nationwide survey of employable
need to discover the aliens.
2. Aliens will be discharged if they did not file declarations of intentions to become citizens prior to June 18, date of passage of the New York-relief act.

STREET PROJECT AT END; MEN TO GET NEW TASKS

WPA workers completed the Court street repaving project Friday at 2:30 p. m., and opened the highway for traffic.

Vattier Courtright, WPA field engineer, said the crew would clean up "odds and ends" on the project Monday and would be then transferred on new projects.

DOG GIVEN TREAT AS OWNER RECEIVES BONUS

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 20.—
(UP)—Dr. Carl Wank, veterinarian, said a veteran brought his mongrel dog to an animal hospital, told the veterinarian he wanted the pup to have a hair clip, manure, bath and a shot of rabies vaccine. After the dog had "the works," Dr. Wank said, the veteran, who had just received his bonus, ordered a taxi, gave the dog a ride home.

FIVE HUNDRED YOUTHS IN LEGION'S "STATE"

COLUMBUS, June 20.—(UP)—
Five hundred Ohio high school boys, each eager to gain first hand knowledge of the operation of county, state and city government, will begin a week's stay here today.

The boys, of junior and senior high school ages, were selected by civic organizations in their respective communities to represent their home cities in the Buckeye Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion.

During their stay they will gain by actual experience a first-hand knowledge of the operating methods of city, county and state governments.

They will elect officers and enact and enforce their own officers.
Various state and city officials will appear to outline governmental problems.

tal problems.

Harold "Pete" Holland went to Columbus at noon Saturday to enter the "legion state." A. J.
Ford took him to the fairgrounds.

COW FRIGHTENS DOG KEPT ON STEAMER EIGHT YEARS

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 20.—
(UP)—Sailors of the tramp steamer Rein, surprised when their mascot fled fearfully from a harmless cow, explained it was the first time the dog had been ashore in eight years. The dog returned to the ship, refused to leave it again.

HEART ATTACK DURING FIGHT CAUSES DEATH

Noah Butterbaugh, 67, Well Known County Man, Dies
at Neighbor's

FUNERAL MONDAY AT 2

Saltcreek Township Man
Listening to Radio at Walter Hedges Home

Excitement during the eighth round of the Louis - Schmeling
fight caused the death of Noah Butterbaugh, 67, general store proprietor at Stringtown, Saltcreek township, Friday at 9:45 p. m.
Mr. Butterbaugh died of a heart attack at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Walter Hedges, near Stringtown, where he was spending the evening. Persons in the room did not know he was ill until they noticed him slumped in the chair.

Mr. Butterbaugh was a life-long resident of Stringtown. He operated a blacksmith shop in the village for about 40 years and in the last 10 years has been proprietor of the general store and filling station.

He was prominent in Democratic politics.
Surviving are his widow, Dona,
and one sister, Mrs. Floyd Dunkle, Stringtown.

Funeral services will be held at the home Monday at 2 p. m. with Rev. Samuel Elsea of Turlon officiating. Burial will be in Stump cemetery, Saltcreek township, in Son.

Kiwanians Convene at Capital

Members of Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States and Canada converge on Washington, D. C., for the twentieth annual convention of Kiwanis International, June 21-25. Shown above is the south wing of the White House, scene of a reception for delegates, and some of the leading personalities of the convention. Harper Gutton of Madisonville, Ky., is president of the organization. J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the U. S. bureau of investigation, and Will Durant, author, are among the principal convention speakers.

Kiwanians to Participate In Broadcast on Monday

Local Club to Meet at Wardell's; Claude Kraft and Virgil Cress Attending Convention in Washington

Members of the Kiwanis club will participate in the "All Kiwanis" night program Monday, an annual feature of the international organization during its convention.

The club will have its dinner meeting at the Wardell Party home on the Williamsport pike at 6:30 o'clock. At approximately 7 o'clock a program to be heard by all Kiwanians in the United States and Canada will be broadcast from Washington, D. C., scene of the twentieth annual convention.

A. B. Cooper of Ashville is in charge of the local club's program will be included in part of the evening's meeting.

Two Delegates Present

Claude Kraft and Virgil Cress, delegates from the local club to the convention, left Friday. They will attend all the sessions during
the four days.

The annual convention is expected to stress child welfare,
urban-rural problems, adult education, public affairs, and to outline plans for greater economy
and efficiency in both government
and public schools.

The Ohio Kiwanis delegation is in charge of Albert R. Cox of Canton, governor of the Ohio district. Judge Dana F. Reynolds of Columbus, lieutenant governor in charge of the district in which Circleville is located, is attending also.

JAMES G. MAY AVERTS RAILROAD ACCIDENT

James G. May, New Holland native, is credited by Baltimore and Ohio railroad officials, with preventing a passenger train wreck.

the railroad tracks near Cambridge Friday.

STEWART STARTS TERM ON CONTRIBUTORY COUNT

Homer Stewart of near Pherson, sentenced to 90 days in the Columbus workhouse on May 18 for contributing to the delinquency of minor children, was taken to the workhouse Friday by Sheriff Charles Radcliff.
The sentence was deferred due to the illness of a child. Probate Judge C. C. Young reported.

CONGRESS' END LOOMS TONIGHT

Three Questions Remain to Be Voted Saturday

WASHINGTON, June 20.—
(UP)—New Deal leaders tentatively hurled a double-headed finisher in the senate today in a drive to pass the $800,000,000 compromise tax bill and adjourn congress probably by dusk.

Three factors offered possible
last-minute obstacles to adjournment put on each of them leaders asserted an agreement was reached before conclusion early this morning of a nerve-racking 13-hour session. They were:

1. The tax bill, on which the senate agreed to vote at 2:20
p. m. passage was described by leaders assured.
2. The Guffey coal bill, on which the senate agreed to a test vote at 3 p. m., with chances of passage apparently remote.
3. The ship subsidy bill, which the house leaders said would be passed—despite a preliminary defeat last night.

Failure to pass either the ship
subsidy measure or the tax bill would upset adjournment plans, as would a test vote victory for the coal bill.

LEMKE TO ENTER RACE IN ALL 48 STATES IN FALL

Democrats Meet Tuesday to Name Roosevelt and

PLATFORM PROBLEM SEEN

Boston Man to Run With Coughlin's Choice on Radical Union Ticket

(UP)—Left wing leaders rallied radicals today to bolt the New Deal on the eve of the Democratic National convention which already is boycotted by a group of prominent conservative Democrats.

Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic National committee was calm.

"We are not disturbed," he told questioners, "by third party movements."

Rep. William Lemke, a non-partisan league Republican from North Dakota, and Father Charles
E. Coughlin emerged last night as the leaders of a long promised third party movement. It is designed to mean a fringe of radical voters from President Roosevelt.

Boston Man Second

Coughlin, whose National Union for Social Justice, has had varied success in congressional primaries, last night his endorsement of Lemke, who announced his presidential candidacy as head of the union party of the United States ticket. Thomas Charles
O'Brien, of Boston, is the union party vice presidential candidate.

Father Coughlin did not hesitate.
Speaking last night in New York
City, he endorsed Lemke and said
the union party would file in each of the 48 states. His challenge was aimed equally at the Republican and Democratic parties. He denounced the Republican platform adopted in Cleveland last week and said the Democratic platform was discredited before publication.

Practical politicians inclined today to consider the Lemke-Coughlin combination of some importance if the 1936 presidential campaign develops into a close race.
Although still lacking the endorsement of the Townsend pension followers and the leaders of what is left of Huey Long's "Share-Our-Wealth" brigade, the union party might be able in some states to

JUDGE SUSPENDS TWO YEAR TERM FOR POSTMASTER

COLUMBUS, June 20.—(UP)— Federal Judge Mel G. Underwood today had placed under a suspended sentence, Homer C.
Emery, former postmaster at Bloomington, Fayette county, who pleaded guilty to an indictment charging embezzlement of $851 in postal funds.

Assistant District Attorney Ray O'Donnell recommended that Emery be placed on probation in view of his past record.

Judge Underwood imposed a sentence of two years in a federal correctional institution but suspended sentence on good behavior and on condition that full restoration of the funds be made within a year. Emery was said to have already repaid a portion of the funds.

liamsport high school.

Mr. Huls has had three years of teaching experience in the Rock-bridge school. He succeeds Robert Bogan, Clarksville, recently employed by the board, who resigned to accept a position at Richwood,
Union county.

UNITED BRETHREN CHURCHES MEET IN CHILLICOTHE

Delegates To Gather On Tuesday

Three Sessions Arranged for Each Day of District Conference

The annual religious education convention conducted by the southeast Ohio conference of the United Brethren church will be held in the First United Brethren church, Chillicothe, beginning at noon Tuesday, June 23.

It will continue until Thursday evening, June 25.

Several hundred delegates representing Sunday schools and Christian Endeavor societies will be in attendance.

There will be three sessions of the convention each day. Simultaneous conferences will be held for children, young people and adults with their leaders at 9:50 each morning and 1:50 each afternoon.

"Christ For the Whole Life; The Whole Life For Christ" will be the theme of the meetings. The convention song is "Let the Beauty of Jesus Be Seen in Me." The Rev. D. S. Mills will have general supervision of the convention music.

At the first session, Tuesday, 10 a. m., Professor J. S. Engle, department of Bible, Otterbein, will discuss "Education for a Purpose," and the Rev. P. E. Wright, Rev. A. B. Cox and Rev. T. C. Harper, will offer fellowship in holy communion. That afternoon, beginning at 1:15 p. m., there will be conferences for children, young people and adults with an address by Mrs. J. Hal Smith, former missionary to Africa and special secretary for the Women's Missionary Society.

Tuesday evening at 7 p. m. Mrs. Ann Sandy, director of the division of children's work, Ohio Council of Religious Education, will speak on "Our Unfinished Task."

Scripture—Luke 24:36-53

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

During the forty days between his resurrection and ascension, Jesus appeared to one or more of his disciples on ten different occasions. One of these was on Easter afternoon to two disciples.

That evening he appeared to the apostles as they were gathered together behind locked doors for fear. "He said to them, 'Peace be unto you.' Thomas was absent on this occasion.

A week later he again showed himself to them, Thomas being present. All Thomas' doubts were dispelled as he saw the wounds made by the nails, and he worshipped Jesus.

Forty days after Easter Jesus led his disciples out to the Mount of Olives, commissioned them to disciple all nations, and, ascended into heaven. (GOLDEN TEXT—Philippians 2:9)

MANILA TO GET NEW AIR BASE

MANILA (UP)— Pan-American Airways is constructing a new base on Canacao Bay, near the Cavite navy yard and across Manila Bay from Manila, to provide better protection for the big Clipper planes during typhoon weather.

Thus far the Clippers have landed at a barge anchored a few hundred yards offshore from Manila, which provides a good mooring for planes. But no facilities are available for hauling them out of the water. Neither is their safety assured in case of severe storms.

Pan-American officials planned heretofore, should bad weather necessitate, to move the plane from Manila Bay.

The new base, between Cavite and Sangley Point, about 7 miles by water and 25 miles by land from Manila, will have a wooden ramp from the shore to the water, which will permit planes to be drawn up on land, secured, overhauled and serviced.

The waters of the bay are more sheltered behind the point on which Cavite is located. This will permit landing and taking off under weather conditions which might make it impossible in Manila Harbor.

Although Manila Harbor is protected by breakwaters, the water is frequently rough enough in typhoon season to make landing and taking off difficult. The new location is advantageous for this reason.

The new base is being constructed on a site formerly owned by the Earnshaw Docks and Honolulu Iron Works.

However, Pan-American officials do not consider it more than a temporary base, as they have ultimate plans of constructing adequate facilities closer to Manila. The distance to Cavite is somewhat of a handicap. Officials desire to have the base as convenient to the public as possible.

The Pan-American radio station will remain at its present location near Fort McKinley.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scout Troop No. 3 held its regular meeting in the Post Room at Memorial Hall, Friday afternoon. Plans were discussed for a mother-daughter tea to be given at a later date.

Tuesday evening, June 16, the troop enjoyed a hamburger fry at Dewey Park. Mrs. J. O. Pile, Mrs. Gladys Wiggins, Mrs. Lawrence Goeller and Mrs. Fred Dauenhauer furnished transportation.

Miss Katherine Brown and Miss Barbara Friedman of New York City were guests of the troop.

"With What Body Do They Come?"

Jesus' Ascension

Then, "while he blessed them, he parted from them, and was carried up into heaven, 'talking their human nature with him as the assurance that we, too, may come to God in our redeemed humanity since he has but gone to prepare a place for us, that where he is there we may be also. No wonder that they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy.' Whom God hath so highly exalted, we, too, should exalt, and joyfully serve."

THE POTATO GOES SNOOTY

THE next time you take another helping of mashed potatoes, remember that you are probably contributing to a potato shortage which already, in some sections of the country, is acute. There actually is a lack of potatoes. Accustomed as we are to shortages in such delicacies as, for instance, strawberries or artichokes, it is somewhat surprising to discover that this fundamental food, this staple among staples, the humble potato, has become exclusive on us too.

In New York city the lack of potatoes has been serious. It is blamed—with everything else this season—on the drought. Vegetable experts there say that the Southern yield was light, and was followed by a light Maine yield. Together they were enough to jam the works, with the result that prices on some types of potatoes have increased 100 per cent in the last few weeks. In addition to that, there are the usual patriotic efforts to corner the market, sending potatoes still higher.

The shortage is expected to last from a month to six weeks more, at the end of which time new crops probably will be fully available. Meanwhile, the potato will enjoy a new status, elevated from its humble and earthy position to the standing of a luxury. May it soon get over putting on airs!

WILL UNCLE SAM EAT CROW?

FROM Rome comes the announcement that Mussolini has divided Ethiopia into five parts for purposes of local administration. The country has been conquered by Italy. Now it is being organized along imperial lines.

The next thing is for Il Duce to get the other nations, including Great Britain and the United States, to recognize his accomplishment and give international status to the African grab.

Great Britain probably will go along with the League of Nations.

As for the United States, it will be extremely difficult for recognition to be accorded a seizure of territory which constituted a flagrant and undisguised violation of the Kellogg anti-war pact.

America, having sponsored the international agreement outlawing war as an instrument of national policy, can scarcely be expected to lend endorsement to an imperialistic raid like that recently perpetrated by Il Duce.

Europe may eat crow, but can Uncle Sam, a professed idealist, follow suit without losing his self-respect and seriously weakening his international prestige and influence?

Mussolini, sticking out his lantern jaw in a typical display of imperialistic bravado, may choose to disregard the answer. But that answer is relatively certain to be an emphatic "No!"

World At A Glance

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

Is a man a militarist for advocating a formidable army and navy?

The United States is scheduled to spend more during the 1936-'37 fiscal year on the development of these services than ever we spent before in peace time.

A billion!

Strictly speaking, the total is a trifle higher than that, by about 100 million dollars, which, however, is a picaresque sum in this day of 10-figure reckonings. Besides, the odd 100 millions are for what are described as non-military purposes.

Now is that or isn't it a warlike program?

TWO CONTENTIONS

Pacifistic folk say that it is. They argue that a country which is well prepared for war inevitably gets into one sooner or later.

The pro-preparedness element, on the opposite hand, contend that they are the true pacifists. Their reasoning is that a strongly armed nation is least likely to have a conflict thrust upon it because other peoples are afraid to tackle it.

That is, to be tolerably sure that we are left in peace, we must stand ready to fight for peace—for our own neutrality anyway.

NO RULE HOLDS GOOD

The answer seems to be that there is not any satisfactory answer.

Strongly armed powers do get into wars, and sometimes, notwithstanding their apparent strength, are beaten. For example, Germany.

Very pacifistic countries are imposed on. For example, China.

Neither rule consistently holds good, apparently.

CONTRARY VIEWS

Curiously enough, there are militarists who speak pacifistically and pacifists who speak militaristically.

Illustratively former Congressman Fred Britten of Illinois, long chairman of the representatives' naval affairs committee and a strenuous supporter of a big American sea establishment, always has taken the view that ocean armaments must be cut to a minimum, because, if they exist, ultimately they will clash.

Contrariwise Congressman George Huddleston of Alabama maintains that reducing armaments accomplishes nothing; peoples who feel the urge to fight will fight with primitive weapons if they haven't up-to-date ones. Peace, he maintains, is in the heart; not a mere matter of mechanical equipment, or of treaties—except as they mean something.

OTHER REASONS?

Uncle Sam's billion-dollar preparations are represented as purely defensive.

Unfortunately they also are mentioned as directed against possibilities of domestic discord. Their proponents suggests that labor may become obstreperous and have to be squelched here at home.

Defense by the navy against a foreign invasion and use of the army in a local capitalistic-labor clash are two different propositions.

HOPE TO WIDEN BORAH-GOP RIFT

WASHINGTON—The shadow of Senator Bill Borah is looming as large over the Democratic platform as it did over the Republican. Framers of the New Deal declaration are going to great pains to meet his views on monopoly, currency and foreign affairs, subjects he is particularly interested in. The Republican plank on monopoly falls far short of Borah's demands, and Governor Landon's pro-gold standard declaration deeply offended him. Democratic strategists are proceeding on the theory that if they adopt planks on the subjects in line with Borah's ideas, they will eliminate any likelihood of peace being patched up between him and the Republican nominee . . . G-boss J. Edgar Hoover is a rabid baseball fan. He rarely misses a game in the Government League series, in which his bureau's team has been a leader for several years.

Florida cities have jumped ahead in "air-mindedness". The Works Progress Administration reports that 46 Florida cities are building or improving airports with the aid of WPA funds . . . The secretary of Senator Frederick Steiwer, Republican keynoter, is the wife of one of Harry Hopkins's ace investigators. The couple make a rule never to talk politics at home . . . The Democratic managers of the Philadelphia Convention could take a pointer from Colonel Frank Knox on how to equip campaign headquarters. At Cleveland, Knox installed a piano in his headquarters and employed a relay of musicians to produce a constant stream of soothing music. It made a great hit with the women delegates.

SHARP-SHOOTING

Practically the entire research staff of the Democratic National Committee has been put to work finetooth-combing the record and public statements of Governor Landon for campaign ammunition. One discovery they claim is a pro-inflation declaration Landon is alleged to have made several years ago . . . The U. S. Municipal News, organ of the U. S. Mayors' Conference, declares that "during the 30-year period from 1900 to 1930, more American lives were lost in celebrating our Independence than in acquiring it during the Revolutionary War."

Senator Kenneth McKellar, chairman of the Postal Committee and an unabashed patronage-grabber, is causing more embarrassment to the Administration. With the Republicans demanding extensive civil service reform, the Tennessean is storming at Postmaster General Jim Farley for lopping off hundreds of rural mail carriers. Their routes are being consolidated, at an annual saving to the government of several million dollars, but McKellar insists this be stopped and the vacancies filled with deserving Democrats.

Paul Whiteman says he was induced to diet when his vest and trousers no longer met. Paul, we are glad to see, once more presents a united front.

Lady, Be Gallant

By MARIE BLIZARD

COPYRIGHT, RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

READ THIS FIRST:

Joan Spencer, a small town school teacher, recently disappointed in love, is engaged as secretary to Julian Stano, noted writer. After a delightful summer at Stano's luxurious home, she is awaiting his return from Europe at his town house. The only disturbing factor in her new world is Sheila True, actress and close friend of Julian's who is jealous of his new secretary. Sheila also is anticipating Julian's arrival and has her own reception planned for him much to Joan's disappointment. Dining alone in Greenwich Village, Joan meets Donald Newberry whom she hasn't seen in years. They both drop in at Betty Robinson's, an old school chum of Joan's. Joan spends the night at the Robinsons. Joan returns to Stano's next morning to find Julian anxiously awaiting her. She sees more of Donald and visits his apartment.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 24

"I'D LIKE it very much," Joan said thoughtfully a few minutes later when Donald asked her how she would like to live in his luxurious apartment. "But I'm having to economize. I don't think I can afford a town place this season because I'm having my yacht repaired."

"I'd throw in a yacht," he assured her. "Seriously, Donald, you must have been awfully well." Her memories of Donald were so hazy she couldn't remember whether he had had any money or not. He had been engaged about Dorothy she remembered.

"I've done all right," he answered casually. "The Street, you know." He didn't elaborate.

"I wish I were a man," Joan admitted wistfully. "Ten years after the average brilliant man is out of college, he can acquire practically everything he wants, a business of his own, a fine home, money enough for everything. But what chance has a girl got unless she's a movie star or a blues singer or something like that?"

"She can always marry money," he reminded her. "What chance would she have to meet a man who could give it to her?" she asked even as she was thinking that here was her chance. Donald didn't answer her; he busied himself with a siphon and tall glass.

"Not that I'd do it," Joan was reassuring. "I wouldn't ever marry a man for his money."

"Why not?"

Joan accepted her glass without any comment. "Don't be so trite, Joan. It doesn't come you. Marriage is a business. You were just bewailing the fact that there isn't a career for women that brings quick returns. Marriage has always been the only career for a woman."

"In grandmother's day?" she inquired tartly.

"Certainly. How many grandmothers fell in love with how many grandfathers? Grandma was an eligible man. Great-grandma invited him to the house for Sunday supper and pointed out what a fine cook grandma was and how superior her tating was. The supper was good and grandma wasn't too bad and so he became her beau and grandma got married for a home and children. Sometimes it was a log cabin and other times it may have been the house on the hill, but it was still an exchange for a home."

"I don't believe it," Joan said flatly but recognizing the truth of what he had said. "My dear child, wouldn't it be just as easy to love a man who could give you a beautiful background? Wouldn't you like the seasons in New York, at Palm Beach, at Aiken? A run over to Paris in the spring? Wouldn't you like soft furs, diamonds and French clothes?"

"Diamonds?" Julian had said she wasn't the diamond bracelet type. "Gold is for you," he had said.

She drank in the luxurious atmosphere of the room before she answered. "Yes, I think I would like it all—but with love. Are you really so hard-boiled and cynical about it?"

"I'm not in the least. It's only

Her arms crept around his shoulders.

that I am surprised at you, Joan. I hadn't expected to find you a romantic."

"But I am! Hopelessly, and I hope I always will be."

"I hope you will be, too. Of course, these old-fashioned ideas of knights on white horses and the belief that 'so they got married and lived happily ever after' are myths beyond my comprehension."

"Good heavens, I don't mean that! I'm not so unworried as all that myself. After all, I have read a few books, but I still think that in spite of books and all this popular talk about love not meaning a thing, it does exist and that it's the only thing that is worth while." She sighed. "But it seems so complicated. People aren't honest with each other and that does mix things up."

"Do you like honesty?" Donald studied her between narrowed eyes and waited for her answer, but when she said she did, the expression in his eyes changed with his mind. Whatever he had been going to say, he reserved.

"Why do men and women always talk about love?" Joan asked after a thoughtful swallow.

"I could give you several reasons why men will always talk to you about love." He sat beside her and touched her hair, letting it curl around his brown finger.

"Nothing personal in it, I suppose?"

"Very," he said. "But I'm afraid of you."

Joan didn't know whether Donald was acting or not but she liked it. Then she didn't know what to say so she leaned forward with her chin in her hands and studied the dancing flames in the hearth.

"I can't figure you out. I don't know whether you are indifferent, naïve or clever," Donald went on.

No girl would like—in circumstances such as these—to be considered any one of the three.

Indifferent? It would be a mistake to be indifferent to anyone as handsome and charming as Donald was being at the moment. Young, rich and attractive, throwing him away would be like throwing away a chance at life.

Naïve? No sensible girl of 23 who had gone to the trouble to spend two hours dressing in a slip of wispy yellow chiffon of sophisticated cut was the type who would relish being thought of as "naïve."

And for any woman to be called clever by a man who is discussing love is nothing short of an insult.

"It shouldn't be hard to figure me out," Donald. Joan turned her face toward him and assembled an expression of amusement. "I couldn't be any of those things." She gave him time to consider what that meant. "I'm surprised that you can't see I'm afraid of you—and myself."

To some extent she was correct. She was afraid that she might spoil something that she wanted to progress slowly so that she could advance with it. She wanted to find Donald Newberry romantically attractive. If other women—women like Sheila and Beatrice—could go for what they wanted, why couldn't she?

Donald looked pretty good to her as a candidate but she knew that she must develop a sincere "crush."

"Do you mean that?" Donald put his glass down very carefully. He held out his hands and pulled her to her feet.

Then he tilted her face up to his and slowly lowered his head until his lips touched hers.

At first she pressed her arms against his. Instinctive defense. Then, with his mouth hard against her own, she released her taut muscles and her arms crept around his black broadcloth-covered shoulders.

It was Donald who took both her hands in one of his at last and released her.

"Oh," she said, and did all the things girls always do at moments like that. She reached one hand for her hair, looked around for her vanity case, tried to pick up a cigarette with her fingers that trembled and began literally to prowl—however gracefully—around the room.

She could feel that kiss. She wanted him to kiss her again. She'd never been kissed that way before. But she didn't dare look at him. She looked at the little boxes on the table. She fingered a book. She paused before the portrait of a woman in riding kit framed in glass that stood on the piano.

"She's nice," she said to Donald's back for want of something else to say.

"She is. Darn nice girl," Donald answered in the same polite voice.

"Your sister?"

"No," Donald's voice had a conclusive note in that monosyllable. Joan tried not to feel that the girl in the portrait was there in the room with them.

In the old likeness that I knew, I would be so faithful, so loving, Dowglas,

Never a scornful word should grieve ye,

I'd smile on ye sweet as the angels do:

Sweet as your smile on me shone ever,

Oh, to call back the days that are not!

My eyes were blinded, your words were few:

Do you know the truth now, up in heaven, Dowglas, Dowglas, tender and true?

I never was worthy of you, Dowglas;

CONTRACT BRIDGE

TRYING TO PICK UP Q-10-9

"DEAR MR. SHEPARD: If the declarer holds the Ace and three small cards, and the dummy has the K-J and two small cards, with the Q-10-9 and two low cards missing, how should the declarer play to stand the best chance of winning four tricks? If not too great a task, will you let me know about the chances the declarer has to win four tricks?"

"B. K. B., St. Louis, Mo."

It is a pleasure to answer so important a query. The holdings are frequently held, and there is only one rational way of playing such a hand.

The five cards help adversely may be divided 5-0, 4 times; 4-1, 28 times; 3-2, 68 times. In 100 times that declarer and dummy hold the Q-10-9 and two low cards missing, the Q-10-9 will be at declarer's left, and the Q-10-9 will be at declarer's right, obviously it will be impossible for the declarer to avoid loss of at least one trick, if the Q-10-9-X-X, Q-X-X-X or Q singleton happen to be at his left, because the 10-9 also are missing from the 26 cards held by the declaring side. If even Q-X-X are held at declarer's right he must lose to the Q. Fortunately there are 68 in 100 cases when the adverse division is 3-2. Each of these divisions must contain the Q-X-X or Q-X. There are 3 chances for the Q to be one of the 3 cards held, to 2 chances for it to be Q-X. Speaking roughly, out of the 68 times that the 3-2 division is held adversely, there will be 41 times when the Q-X-X will be held, as against 27 times the Q-X division will be held.

Take 136 average cases of the 3-2 adverse division of the suit specified, with 68 cases of the 3-2 division at declarer's left, and a similar number of the 3-2 division at his right. Of each 68's there will be 47 cases of the Q-X-X and 21 cases of the Q-X.

Double-dummy play, with all cards faced on the table, will enable declarer to capture the Q 89 times out of the 136 cases. He will capture the Q at his left 47 times by laying down his Ace, then finessing dummy's J, then leading dummy's K. The Q-X may be captured 21 times at declarer's left, by leading his Ace, then when it has to be played on the low lead towards dummy, by playing dummy's K. Also the Q-X will be found 21 times at declarer's right, and may be picked up by leading the Ace and K. Of course there will be 47 failures to capture the Q from Q-X-X, at declarer's right.

Without double-dummy play, the Q may be captured only 42 times by leading off the Ace and K, thus capturing the Q-X, on either side of declarer. By leading the Ace, then finessing the J, in case the Q is not played at declarer's left on the second lead of the suit, the Q will be captured all 68 times that Q lies at declarer's left. This is the best procedure.

Here Are Some Facts Regarding Your Eyes

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

SOME QUESTIONS about the eye: "Is there danger of eye-glasses breaking and cutting the eyeball?" Of course this is a possibility, and yet it is strange how rarely it occurs. Many busy eye specialists have never observed such a misfortune. The most frequent cause, according to my own recollection, is in golf players when a golf ball bounds back and breaks the glasses.

"Will I always have to wear glasses?"

Those who deny themselves good vision because they fear that the use of glasses will make them dependent have a wrong conception of the matter. The people who really need glasses probably will always have to use them, but there is no reason why they should be denied that extra comfort, or why they should put off the appointed day. The reason for glasses is a difference in the size or shape of the eyeball from normal and cannot be outgrown. It is true that some people outgrow the need for glasses, but this is a condition that occurs in old age

Social Calendar

Hostesses in the city have been busy planning various kinds of entertainment for recent brides. One of the nicest of these parties was the desert bridge given by Mrs. A. H. Rodgers, N. Court street, honoring her sister, Mrs. Floyd Gaier of Centerville.

The affair was held at the American Hotel coffee shop Friday afternoon.

Baskets of garden flowers placed about the room made an attractive setting for the players. The planned diversion was contract bridge played at twelve tables with trophies for high score being awarded Mrs. Wallace Crist and Miss Margaret Crist. Mrs. Gaier was presented with a beautiful guest prize by the hostess.

A delicious dessert course was served at small tables centered with bud vases of blue larkspur and yellow coreopsis.

Vause-Cromley Wedding

At four o'clock, Saturday, Miss Anna Vause, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Vause of Ashville, became the bride of Dr. Curtis W. Cromley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cromley, also of Ashville.

The ceremony was solemnized at the St. Paul Lutheran church with Rev. E. H. E. Winteroff officiating. The church was beautifully decorated with basket lilies white phlox, white delphinium and gypsophila midst palms and ferns.

Attending the bride were Miss Anna Hay, maid of honor; Miss Martha Goeller, Circleville, and Miss Jean Vause of Ashville, bridesmaids. Dr. Cromley chose Mr. William Brodbeck of Columbus for best man. The ushers were Mr. Joseph Peters, Mr. Carl Scothern, Mr. William Duvall and Mr. Hewitt Cromley, all of Ashville.

A choice selection of music was presented before the ceremony by Miss Chestora Dountz of Orient.

City of Brotherly Love Prepares For $1,000,000 Shave and Haircut

Mayor S. Davis Wilson

Where Democrats will assemble

WPA workers sprucing up the city of Philadelphia for the Democratic convention

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Your generous Uncle Sam is giving this city a million-dollar shave and haircut for the Democratic convention.

That's what it amounts to with 85 men renovating Independence hall, 250 more sprucing up City hall, 1600 repaving half a dozen main streets, and a couple of thousand more fixing up convention hall and generally lifting the face of this old Quaker City.

Costs City $350,000.

The Democrats arrive here to open their convention June 23.

And to be exact, Uncle Sam isn't spending quite a million — $961,326. The city is putting up $350,000.

Most of the work is being done under WPA projects and to give Uncle Sam credit much of the work is of lasting character.

But everything hasn't been sweetness and light during this renovation business. There was the battle of City Hall plaza, which involved Gen. George B. McClellan and Gen. John F. Reynolds, a couple of Civil war heroes.

Filled with a lust for cleanliness, the renovators started shining the nice green patina. These two statues had been gathering dust for the last 50 years.

Giuseppe Donato, one of the city's leading sculptors, stopped that by tearing his hair and threatening to call down the wrath of the gods. So George and John are now being severely left alone. Except they have shade these days. Trees have been planted in the plaza, probably the first since William Penn arrived.

Mayor Pushes It
The big push behind this desire for a shiny city is S. (for Samuel) Davis Wilson, the Yankee mayor. He was largely instrumental in getting the convention here in the first place.

Wilson is the first registered Democrat this town has had for a mayor since baseball was invented. Except that isn't quite fair to Wilson, for he was elected on a Republican ticket.

It's all very complicated. But politics are that way in Philadelphia. Wilson was elected city controller as a Democrat and then at the last election ran as a Republican, but he couldn't change his registration without swearing he had voted for a majority of Republican candidates at the previous election.

That's the law, and since Wilson doesn't swear, nothing could be done about it.

Besides attempting to delight the eye of the delegates, the inner man also is being considered.

Plenty to Drink
The state liquor control board has stocked the state stores to overflowing, and if the delegates drink half the stuff on hand they'll go home and tell their wives they had a fine time in "Boston or Pittsburgh."

And if that doesn't appeal, there are two art museums, mid-gate automobile races, a thousand churches and Atlantic City 60 miles away.

No, the Liberty Bell won't be patched up for the occasion. Just dusted.

Broadcasters Prepare for Huge Democratic Meeting

One Network Arranges Six Pick-Up Microphones in Public Hall; Highlight to Be Acceptance

With THE REPUBLICAN convention history radio men have turned to the Democratic meeting in Philadelphia, their next great venture in this active year of 1936.

Many of the unique radio features of the G. O. P. conclave in Cleveland will be repeated. The network staffs of regular commentators and special interpreters will be much the same.

One network has arranged for six pick-up points in the Philadelphia convention hall and a seventh in an important downtown hotel where a suite has been converted into a studio for special convention programs of leading political analysts and experts.

THE DEMOCRATIC convention presents a longer, if not greater, task for the broadcasters than did the Republican meet, which concluded with the naming of a vice-presidential candidate.

Though the Philadelphia political pow-wow is expected to be a four-day affair as was the Cleveland confab, the radio men must remain on hand in the Quaker City an additional day, Saturday, to broadcast President Roosevelt's acceptance speech, to be given in Philadelphia's Franklin Field at 9 p. m., eastern time.

AMONG LEADING political lights who will be heard over the air during Democratic convention week will be:

Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, the keynoter.

Senator Joseph Robinson of Arkansas, the convention's permanent chairman.

President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner.

NOTES: Clara, Lu and Em return to the air, Friday, June 26, with Ted Fio Rito and his orchestra over the NBC Blue network. . . The same night you may hear Jessica Dragonette in solos by Tschalkowsky and other noted composers via NBC Red. . . The "Lavender and Old Lace" program is beginning its third year. WTAQ, Green Bay, Wis., should have labeled its limerick contest

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

"Dancing Pirate," the first feature film of the sort in the 100 percent new Technicolor, marks the beginning of a movement that will advance motion pictures into genuine art.

That is the expressed opinion of Dr. Ernst Tross, world-recognized authority on European art and one of the very few men distinguished by the title, Doctor of the History of Art. He determines authenticity for museums and, in crediting the Pioneer Pictures with the first real attempt at film artistry, he declared the fact that the film is a sparkling romantic comedy in no wise detracts from its artistic rating.

"Dancing Pirate," produced by John Speaks and directed by Lloyd Corrigan, presents Charles Collins, Frank Morgan, Steffi Duna, Luis Alberni, Victor Varconi, Jack LaRue, the Royal Canino family, the Huapango rhythm kings of Mexico City and many other favorites are at the Cliftona starting Sunday.

FIGHT FANS SING PRAISES OF MAX AS LOUIS FALLS

First Thoughts of New Heavy Contender Are of Wife 3,000 Miles Away

NEW YORK, June 20.—(UP)—Max Schmeling stood alone yesterday. Today he was a great sport hero, with fight fans singing his praises from Berlin's Unter Den Linden around the world to Shanghai's Bund.

A stack of telegrams several feet high piled on a table outside the room where slept the man who whipped Joe Louis.

The crowds who had camped at Louis' feet, flocked to Schmeling the moment he won.

Max, despite a badly swelled eye, was unutterably happy.

His first thoughts when he returned to his hotel, after a mad scene in his dressing room at Yankee stadium were for his wife—beautiful Anny Ondra, 3,000 miles away in Berlin.

Talked to Wife

While reporters clamored to listen, Max calmly went into a bedroom, locked the door and talked to his wife by transatlantic telephone for ten minutes.

When he came out, he looked over some of the telegrams.

"I don't even know these people," he said. "I never received so many messages in my life."

They came from all over the world—Berlin, Paris, Tokyo and London.

One from England said: "I bet everything I had on you—a Britisher."

"We could not stand him either, congratulations—the graduating class of Lakewood, N. J. high school." (That was where Louis trained).

Dallas, Tex., said—"all Dixie is proud of you."

From White Fish, Mont.—"To the yellowest fighter who ever came back we take our hats off."

While Schmeling was happily bewildered by his new-found popularity, little Joe Jacobs, his manager, was almost delirious.

When he returned to Schmeling's hotel, he said: "All you newspaper guys built Louis up as a super-fighter, who could name his round, his punch and his minute. Now I'm wonderin' what you're gonna say about the guy what licked your champion."

Plans to Wait

Max planned to sleep late today. Before retiring he said he would make no definite plans regarding the future until some time this afternoon.

About This And That In Many Sports

What of Joe Louis?

Schmeling wasn't afraid—He took all Louis had in the first three rounds then went after him—He was confident, in condition, and strong in his conviction that the Detroit Bomber could be hit with a right hand, and did he hit him?

—Never before has the janitor heard two broadcasters change their opinions so quickly as did Edwin C. Hill and Clem McCarthy on the national hook-up—It was all Louis and "How long will the fight last?" when they started, but a few solid right punches turned their feathers—What will become of Louis now?—He will not say "Enough" surely, because he might take the German in another fight—Jimmy Braddock, present champion, was one of the few who selected Schmeling to take the negro—The Braddock-Schmeling title bout should be a keen one—Little local money changed hands although a salesman for one of the city's utilities won eight bucks on a dollar wager with one of Louis's followers ***

Tod in Chillicothe

This is Saturday, the day Tod Thompson, Pickaway Country Club professional, enters fast company—At 3 o'clock this afternoon he tees off as partner to Walter Hagen in a match over the Chillicothe Country club course—Hagen is on his way to compete in the Western Open ***

"Get Record"—Helfrich

Mike Helfrich has a very appropriate answer to the challenge recently hurled at his New Holland Budweisers by the Darbyville Independents—"Get a record such as ours and we'll talk a championship series," is Mike's response to the Darbyville challenge, carried here a few days ago—New Holland, with Shadel Saunders in the saddle, has won 10 consecutive ball games—Columbus Cycles provide opposition Sunday at New Holland ***

Roger Catches Up

Here's the story of the trip to Hessel, Mich., at least as far as Elmer Roger is concerned: "He slept during the entire vacation" ***

In Racing Venture

HEIRESS to part of the Ar-buckle coffee millions, Mrs. Eugenia Clair Smith, also owner of several fabulously valuable emeralds, is part owner of a new race track near her suburban property in Delmar, Cal., near Los Angeles. Crooner Bing Crosby also is said to be part owner.

DAIRY DEFEATS BROWN BOMBER Picture of Despair; Wife Weeps

GIVES 10 TO 2 Goes to Red Sox Maloney Does Well for His Pickaway Team

Bob Maloney was in his old-time form Friday evening, while the Given Oils committed a number of errors permitting the Pickaway Dairy to win a 10 to 2 softball game. Bob Jones, twirling for the losers, was in ordinary form, but his mates didn't support him so well as Maloney's did him.

The defeat buried the Oils in the cellar with only one victory in seven games.

Monday's schedule starts with the Eshelman Feeds and the Eagles meeting.

Next week's schedule follows: Monday: Eshelman Feeds vs. Eagles. Tuesday: Cities Service vs. Pickaway Dairy. Wednesday: Given Oils vs. Eshelman Feeds. Thursday: Circleville Oils vs. Pickaway Dairy. Friday: Cities Service vs. Eagles.

TRAUTMAN DENIES UMPS AGAINST LOUISVILLE 9

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 20.—(UP)—Charges American Association umpires had discriminated against the Louisville club were denied emphatically by President George M. Trautman after a two way investigation.

Trautman came here after Manager Burleigh Grimes, who has been ejected from numerous games this season, protested to league headquarters that umpires had made intentional unfair rulings against the Colonels.

Trautman was in the stands last night as Grimes and Manager Fred Haney engaged in a fist fight that necessitated police interference.

CLIPPER SMITH TO TAKE STULDRER'S OLD JOB

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—(UP)—Maurice J. "Clipper" Smith, Santa Clara university football coach for the last seven years, resigned his post today to become head coach at Villanova.

Smith will replace Harry Stuldrer, who in turn will fill the vacancy left by "Doc" Spears at the University of Wisconsin.

Goes to Red Sox

CAPTAIN and pitcher for the Dartmouth nine that beat Harvard and Yale twice this year, Ted Olson has signed for a tryout with the Boston Red Sox. He was to report to the Red Sox at once.

HITLER WIRES MAXIE; SENDS WIFE FLOWERS

MUNICH, Germany, June 20.—(UP)—Adolf Hitler himself cabled Maxie Schmeling congratulations immediately upon being awakened with the news that the former German heavyweight champion of the world had conquered the negro, Joe Louis.

Der Fuehrer also ordered flowers sent to Mrs. Schmeling in Berlin.

One of the most severe let-downs we have had in several years came from the wild lions of Ethiopia, whose advance agents assured us they would tear the invaders to shreds.

NEW YORK, June 20.—(UP)—From a conquering fistic idol Joe Louis was transformed today into a beaten, pitifully dejected colored boy who craved nothing but seclusion from the world which had heaped glory on his kinky head and piled gold at his feet.

Joe learned plenty about the fickleness of an idolizing public last night when he was annihilated by the so-called "has been," Maxie Schmeling. He was deserted by all but four loyal members of his own race—Trainer Jack Blackburn, co-managers, Julian Black and John Roxborough, and his recent bride, Marva.

Mike Turns Back

Joe was carried feet first from the ring to his dressing room. Even Mike Jacobs, the former obscure ticket speculator who rose to promotional fame on the power in Louis' brown fists, turned his back on the negro boy, in eagerness to get to the victor.

Marva sat outside the deserted dressing room door weeping silently, as trainer and managers attempted to restore him to consciousness. Newspapermen hurried to the quarters of the conqueror as soon as they had obtained brief statements through the bruised and swollen lips of the conquered.

"After that punch sent me down, I don't remember nothin'," Joe mumbled. "He suah hit me hard."

His brown features looking more like a leather basketball than a face, the mutilated mutilator, silently submitted to a doctor's cursory examination to determine whether he had suffered any fractures.

"No breaks," reported Dr. Vincent Nardiello, "but he has a badly bruised jaw, and both of his thumbs are sprained."

"Yes, he told me when he hurt 'em," interrupted Blackburn. "He complained about the left one after the fourth, and the right one in the ninth. He shudda had more tape on his hands."

The boxing commission made both fighters strip the tape from across their knuckles before the bout, leaving only a covering of gauze.

Picture of Despair

Stretched out on the ruddy table, eyes closed and fingers drumming by his side, the brown bomber was the picture of despair. He still couldn't stand alone 20 minutes after the fight when Blackburn had to half-carry "Chappie" to the showers. Head slumped on chest, the late "tan tornado" didn't even resemble a gentle breeze.

Managers Roxborough and Blackburn were too bewildered to say much.

"Of course we are not thinking of fighting for a while," Blackburn said despondently. "A good long rest will do him plenty of good."

Trainer Blackburn, himself one of the greatest of all fighters, refused to lose confidence.

"You mark my words," he said

Helping Joe into his coat

"Chappie will come back from this defeat to be greater than ever."

Met by His Wife

Marva met her Joe at the door and threw her arms around him. Arm and arm, they walked silently to a waiting automobile which carried them to a hotel where they met Joe's mother and sister who had seen their son and brother take a professional licking for the first time.

Remember When?

Circleville Rotary club received its charter.

The chapter was presented to the local club Feb. 20, 1922 at a banquet in the Methodist Episcopal church. Harry G. Stevenson was president of the club. The presentation was made by Governor "Bob" Patterson. Installation ceremonies were in charge of Pert Posten, Chillicothe. Two hundred persons attended the banquet. Rotarians were here from Chillicothe, Lancaster, Washington C. H., Columbus, Logan and Dayton.

GOVERNMENT TO USE 50,000 ACRES FOR RECREATION

CAMPS FOR OHIO CHILDREN LISTED IN FOREST WORK

Lake Proposed in 13,600 Acre Ross-Hocking Conservation Job

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., June 20.—More than 50,000 acres of rugged and picturesque country will be made available for recreation use in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri through land conservation projects of the Resettlement Administration.

Of the 15 land conservation projects the Resettlement Administration has under way, six are being developed solely for recreational use and three others will be partly recreational.

Reforestation, wild life preservation, erosion control, grazing, and agricultural experimentation are other uses to which land is being put under the conservation program.

In Indiana, two recreation projects being developed include approximately 12,700 acres of land. One of these, the Winamac Recreational project, is in the northwest part of the state in Pulaski county along the Tippecanoe river. More than 300 men are at work on this project of some 6,000 acres in building camping facilities, shelter houses, bathing beaches, and cabins.

Others Under Way

A similar project is under way near Versailles in Ripley county where approximately 6,600 acres are being improved for a public recreational area. About 600 men are employed there in constructing playground and camp facilities.

In Illinois, adjoining the Pere Marquette State Park near Grafton in Jersey county, approximately 3,000 acres of hilly, wooded land are under development for recreational use, with more than 300 men employed.

In Missouri, three recreational projects are under way. The largest is at Lake of the Ozarks and embraces 14,500 acres including 90 miles of shore line. About 800 are at work on this project. The second, the Cuivre River Recreational project, near Troy, covers about 5,600 acres and is employing about 350 men. The third, the Montserrat Recreational project, near Knobnoster, in Johnson county, may ultimately cover about 5,000 acres. It is now employing about 300 men.

All of the recreation projects are being developed with the co-operation of the National Park Service.

In addition, the Resettlement administration is planning to devote a large part of the 13,600 acre Ross-Hocking forest project, near Chillicothe, Ohio, to recreational use. Two areas, one for general use and the other to accommodate organized children's camps, would be developed around a proposed lake to provide water sports and serve as a watershed.

Restoring 48,000 Acres

It is planned also to set aside substantial acreages for recreational use in the rugged hills of Brown county and Martin county in Indiana, where the Resettlement administration is restoring 48,000 acres of non-agricultural land to forestry and wild life preserves.

SAWYER FACES CHARGE IN COLUMBUS COURTS

Harry Sawyer, Watt street, was arrested by city police Friday evening on a charge of non support issued from municipal court, Columbus. He is being held for Columbus officers.

Noah Skaggs, 21, Cedar Hill, arrested for intoxication, was fined $10 and costs by Mayor W. J. Graham and committed to the county jail. Lewis Wagner, South Perry, arrested on a drunk and disorderly charge, forfeited a $10 bond when he failed to appear in court Friday for a hearing. Joe Wilkes, 55, city, was arrested Friday night for intoxication.

SAUSAGE KING CROWNED

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont. (UP)—Alex Woronka, a miner, has been proclaimed "Champion Sausage Eater of Kirkland." He consumed four pounds of sausage and a loaf of bread in half an hour.

DOGS PROVE UNGRATEFUL

HEALDSBURG, Cal. (UP)—Homer Cate, county poundmaster, spared the lives of five dogs that they might guard his 50-gallon tank of gasoline. But when thieves came, the dogs failed him.

BLUE LAW DOOMS CAFE

OAK HARBOR, O. (UP)—To close Oak Harbors' only night club, after complaints, Mayor O. L. Teagarden dusted off a "blue law" ordinance of 1886, prohibiting sale of liquor after midnight.

OLD BIBLE HIDDEN IN ROOF
JUNEAU, Wis. (UP)—A Bible published in 1825 was found in a hollow space beneath a cornice board on the roof of William Housler's home near here by William Maas, a carpenter repairman in the building.
BOYS CALLED OVERLAD
LONDON (UP)—The modern schoolboy is overclothed to the detriment of his health, Dr. John Riddell, assistant medical officer of health for Stirlingshire, contends in the current issue of the Lancet.
COURTESY
At the bus station a woman gave a little boy a tip for carrying her bag. The boy was silent. "Now," reminded the woman, "what should a polite little boy say to a lady who has given him a penny for carrying her grip?" "I know, ma'am," was the reply, "but I'm too polite to say it."

the entire nation. For the purpose of conducting these rallies simultaneously with the one at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, there is being created a nation-wide organization known as the Roosevelt Nominators. Its slogan is "I Want Roosevelt Again." Membership in the Roosevelt Nominators will be acquired by payment of $1 or more to the local organization. Every county Democratic organization will be asked to seek members.

Presented Roosevelt

The member's name, together with his contribution, will be registered on the Roosevelt Nominators Enrollment Roster which, after the convention, will be presented to President Roosevelt. The Roosevelt Nominators will accomplish two purposes. First, they will have raised by the very day of the President's nomination, a substantial part of the national campaign fund, and second, they will launch that campaign with rallies in cities and towns throughout the country by giving assemblages of local Democrats, and all those who want to have a part in President Roosevelt's re-election, the opportunity of hearing and receiving inspiration from the President's address of acceptance.

PAUL D. HELWAGEN, automobile dealer, bought a new shirt a week or so ago from an uptown dealer. He liked it very much, until it was washed. After it had been ironed Mr. Helwagen put on the shirt, and found the cuffs were nearly to his elbows. It was only a few minutes before Helwagen was on his way to the store from which the shirt was purchased.

"Look here," he said, "I paid good money for this shirt and now it has shrunk until I can hardly get in it."

"Let me see it," replied Dorthy Courtwright. After an examination he denied the store had sold the shirt.

Helwagen had, by mistake, put on a shirt of his father-in-law, George M. Fitzpatrick.

New Dealers will not be upset about third party movements, however, unless there is a coalition of minority groups in opposition to Mr. Roosevelt. New Dealers are confident now that they will have election day support of the La Follette Progressive party.

which is dominant in Wisconsin, and of Gov. Floyd B. Olson's Minnesota Farmer-Laborites. Any movement in Wisconsin or Minnesota to organize against Mr. Roosevelt in the presidential campaign would be disturbing to Farley and other New Deal strategists.

Smith, Raskob Discounted

The conservative bolt has been discounted and is no more alarming to the New Deal command today than some months ago. Such past-potent Democrats as Alfred E. Smith, John J. Raskob, James A. Reed and Joseph B. Ely will not support Mr. Roosevelt, but they were counted out long ago.

New Dealers are in control of the convention which will convene here next Tuesday. Party bigwigs are arriving on every train. Hotels are filling and streets are gay with red, white and blue signs of welcome. There may be a skirmish over abrogation of the rule requiring a two-thirds nominating majority and dispute over the platform is not unlikely. But the big business of the convention will be re-nomination of Mr. Roosevelt and Vice President Garner. Farley is betting there will not be a dissenting vote on that.

Four Children Survive As 12 Drown in Lake

Maine Authorities Contemplate Criminal Action After Boat
Capsizes During Vacation Celebration Friday; Youthful
Teacher is Heroine as Parents Watch

MACHIAS, Me., June 20.—(UP)— Authorities contemplated
criminal action today against the owner of a small boat that capsized in Gardner's lake yesterday, drowning 12 children.

O. F. Larson, county medical examiner, said the boat, a 13-foot outboard motor craft, was so "shamefully" overloaded with 16 children that it shipped water enough to sink the first time it banked on a turn.

The boat overturned in 10 feet of water scarcely 25 yards from shore but only one of the children, ranging in age from 8 to 17, was able to swim. Three others were rescued, the rest sank before rescuers could reach them. They were part of 90 children from schools of Lubec, West Lubec and North Lubec, 22 miles north, celebrating the first day of their summer vacation. Four teachers and approximately 100 parents and adult friends accompanied them.

Operator Crippled
Kelly London, 56, owner of the boat, was operating it. He is a cripple and is a favorite among Lubec children.

With 16 children aboard, he just had gotten away from shore
when the boat overturned. A scream in unison from all 16, cut short by the water closing over
their heads, called all the crowd
ashore to the lake's grassy bank.
The boat remained afloat, though
overturned.

London and two children clung
to the boat. The other children thrashed desperately, screamed,
then one by one sank.

Miss Stella Burnes, a 23-year-old teacher, was heroine of the tragedy. She was sitting in an automobile near the shore. Before any one else in the shore crowd

WASHINGTON, June 20.—
(UP)—The Works Progress Administration set out today to purge federal work-relief rolls of 120,000 aliens illegally in this country.

They must be discharged from their government jobs as soon as
after June 30 as Administrator
Harry L. Hopkins starts spending
the new $1,425,000,000 fund, and
face possible deportation in wholesale numbers.

The move represented a complete change in relief policy. Under
the current $4,000,000,000 program, WPA gave relief to aliens
as well as citizens.

Hopkins will follow this course
in dismissing work-relief job-holders who have no legal right in
the country:

1. President Roosevelt will use
part of the new money financing
a nationwide survey of employable
need to discover the aliens.
2. Aliens will be discharged if they did not file declarations of intentions to become citizens prior to June 18, date of passage of the
New York-relief act.

STREET PROJECT AT END; MEN TO GET NEW TASKS

at Neighbor's

FUNERAL MONDAY AT 2

Saltcreek Township Man
Listening to Radio at
Walter Hedges Home

Excitement during the eighth
round of the Louis - Schmeling
fight caused the death of Noah Butterbaugh, 67, general store proprietor at Stringtown, Saltcreek
township, Friday at 9:45 p. m.

Mr. Butterbaugh died of a heart attack at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Walter Hedges, near Stringtown, where he was spending the evening. Persons in the room did not know he was ill until they noticed him slumped in
the chair.

Mr. Butterbaugh was a life-long resident of Stringtown. He operated a blacksmith shop in the village for about 40 years and in the last 10 years has been proprietor
of the general store and filling station.

He was prominent in Democratic politics.

Surviving are his widow, Dona,
and one sister, Mrs. Floyd Dunkle, Stringtown.

Funeral services will be held at the home Monday at 2 p. m. with
Rev. Samuel Elisea of Turlington officiating. Burial will be in Stump cemetery, Saltcreek township, in Son.

tional organization during its convention.

The club will have its dinner meeting at the Wardell Party home on the Williamsport pike at 6:30 o'clock. At approximately 7 o'clock a program to be heard by all Kiwanians in the United States and Canada will be broadcast from Washington, D. C., scene of the twentieth annual convention.

A. B. Cooper of Ashville is in charge of the local club's program will be included in part of
the evening's meeting.

Two Delegates Present
Claude Kraft and Virgil Cress, delegates from the local club to
will attend all the sessions during
the four days.

The annual convention is expected to stress child welfare,
urban-rural problems, adult education, public affairs, and to outline plans for greater economy
and efficiency in both government
and public schools.

The Ohio Kiwanis delegation is in charge of Albert R. Cox of

PLATFORM PROBLEM SEEN

Boston Man to Run With Coughlin's Choice on Radical Union Ticket

(UP)—Left wing leaders rallied radicals today to bolt the New Deal on the eve of the Democratic National convention which already is boycotted by a group of prominent conservative Democrats.

Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic National committee was calm.

"We are not disturbed," he told questioners, "by third party movements."

Rep. William Lemke, a non-partisan league Republican from
North Dakota, and Father Charles
E. Coughlin emerged last night as
the leaders of a long promised third party movement. It is designed to mean a fringe of radical voters from President Roosevelt.

Boston Man Second

Coughlin, whose National Union for Social Justice, has been boycotted by the Democratic party.

President of Lemke, who announced his presidential candidacy as head of the union party of the United States ticket, Thomas Charles
O'Brien, of Boston, is the union
party vice presidential candidate.

Father Coughlin did not hesitate
speaking last night in New York
City, he endorsed Lemke and said
the union party would file in each of the 48 states. His challenge was aimed equally at the Republican
and Democratic parties. He denounced the Republican platform adopted in Cleveland last week and said the Democratic platform was discredited before publication.

Practical politicians inclined today to consider the Lemke-Cough-
lin combination of some importance if the 1936 presidential campaign develops into a close race.
Although still lacking the endorsement of the Townsend pension followers and the leader of what is
Wealth" brigade, the union party
might be able in some states to

Three Questions Remain to Be

WASHINGTON, June 20.—
(UP)—New Deal leaders tentatively hurled a double-headed fil-luster in the senate today in a drive to pass the $800,000,000 compromise tax bill and adjourn congress probably by dusk.

Three factors offered possible
last-minute obstacles to adjournment put on each of them leaders asserted an agreement was reached before conclusion early this morning of a nerve-racking 13-hour session. They were:

1. The tax bill, on which the senate agreed to vote at 2:20
p. m. passage was described by leaders as assured.
2. The Guffey coal bill, on which the senate agreed to a test vote at 3 p. m., with chances of passage apparently remote.
3. The ship subsidy bill, which
the house leaders said would be passed—despite a preliminary defeat last night.

Failure to pass either the ship
subsidy measure or the tax bill would upset adjournment plans, as would a test vote victory for the coal bill.

HOCKING COUNTY MAN EMPLOYED COACH, TEACHER

ing county, was employed by the Deer Creek township Board of Education at a special meeting Friday evening as coach, instructor of industrial arts and sciences for Wil-

Mr. Huls has had three years of teaching experience in the Rock-

Bogan, Clarksville, recently employed by the board, who resigned to accept a position at Williamsport
Union county.

Delegates To Gather On Tuesday

Three Sessions Arranged for Each Day of District Conference

The annual religious education convention conducted by the southeast Ohio conference of the United Brethren church will be held in the First United Brethren church, Chillicothe, beginning at noon Tuesday, June 23.

It will continue until Thursday evening, June 25.

Several hundred delegates representing Sunday schools and Christian Endeavor societies will be in attendance.

There will be three sessions of the convention each day. Simultaneous conferences will be held for children, young people and adults with their leaders at 9:50 each morning and 1:50 each afternoon.

"Christ For the Whole Life; The Whole Life For Christ" will be the theme of the meetings. The convention song is "Let the Beauty of Jesus Be Seen in Me." The Rev. D. S. Mills will have general supervision of the convention music.

At the first session, Tuesday, 10 a. m., Professor J. S. Engle, department of Bible, Otterbein, will discuss "Education for a Purpose," and the Rev. P. E. Wright, Rev. A. B. Cox and Rev. T. C. Harper will offer fellowship in holy communion. That afternoon, beginning at 1:15 p. m., there will be conferences for children, young people and adults with an address by Mrs. J. Hal Smith, former missionary to Africa and special secretary for the Women's Missionary Society.

Tuesday evening at 7 p. m. Mrs. Ann Sandy, director of the division of children's work, Ohio Council of Religious Education, will speak on "Our Unfinished Task."

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Luke 24:36-53

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell
And Alfred J. Buscher

During the forty days between his resurrection and ascension, Jesus appeared to one or more of his disciples on ten different occasions. One of these was on Easter afternoon to two disciples.

That evening he appeared to the apostles as they were gathered together behind locked doors for fear. He said to them, "Peace be unto you." Thomas was absent on this occasion.

A week later he again showed himself to them, Thomas being present. All Thomas' doubts were dispelled as he saw the wounds made by the nails, and he worshiped Jesus.

Forty days after Easter Jesus led his disciples out to the Mount of Olives, commissioned them to disciple all nations, and, ascended into heaven. (GOLDEN TEXT—Philippians 2:9)

CHURCH BRIEFS

Sermon subjects at the United Brethren church Sunday will be: morning, "Lessons from a Garden"; evening, "Considering the Heavens."

Rev. Ellis Radebaugh of Calvary Evangelical church will preach on "Working to God's Plan" in the morning and "Faith" in the evening.

The Calvary Evangelical church's prayer meeting will be Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the Presbyterian church Sunday, June 28.

The children's day program of the Nazarene church will be Sunday at 7:30 o'clock.

The home of Miss Anna Kirkwood, 315 N. Scioto street, will be the scene of the midweek prayer service of the Methodist church Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock.

The communion sermon at Trinity Lutheran church Sunday will be "Remember What Christ Has Said About Communion." The service is at 10:15 a. m.

Meetings at Trinity Lutheran church next week include the junior choir practice Thursday at 7 p. m. and the senior choir practice Friday at 7:30 p. m.

The second out-door service of the Lutheran church will be Sunday at 7 p. m. on the lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Mowery, Pickaway township.

MANILA TO GET NEW AIR BASE

MANILA (UP)— Pan-American Airways is constructing a new base on Canacao Bay, near the Cavite navy yard and across Manila Bay from Manila, to provide better protection for the big Clipper planes during typhoon weather.

Thus far the Clippers have landed at a barge anchored a few hundred yards offshore from Manila, which provides a good mooring for planes. But no facilities are available for hauling them out of the water. Neither is their safety assured in case of severe storms.

Pan-American officials planned heretofore, should bad weather necessitate, to move the plane from Manila Bay.

The new base, between Cavite and Sangley Point, about 7 miles by water and 25 miles by land from Manila, will have a wooden ramp from the shore to the water, which will permit planes to be drawn up on land, secured, overhauled and serviced.

The waters of the bay are more sheltered behind the point on which Cavite is located. This will permit landing and taking off under weather conditions which might make it impossible in Manila Harbor.

Although Manila Harbor is protected by breakwaters, the water is frequently rough enough in typhoon season to make landing and taking off difficult. The new location is advantageous for this reason.

The new base is being constructed on a site formerly owned by the Earnshaw Docks and Honolulu Iron Works.

However, Pan-American officials do not consider it more than temporary base, as they have ultimate plans of constructing adequate facilities closer to Manila. The distance to Cavite is somewhat of a handicap. Officials desire to have the base as convenient to the public as possible.

The Pan-American radio station will remain at its present location near Fort McKinley.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scout Troop No. 3 held its regular meeting in the Post Room at Memorial Hall, Friday afternoon. Plans were discussed for a mother-daughter tea to be given at a later date.

Tuesday evening, June 16, the troop enjoyed a hamburger fry at Dewey Park. Mrs. J. O. Pile, Mrs. Gladys Wiggins, Mrs. Lawrence Goeller and Mrs. Fred Dauenhauer furnished transportation.

Miss Katherine Brown and Miss Barbara Friedman of New York City were guests of the troop.

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for June 21 is Luke 24:36-53, the Golden Text being Philippians 2:9, "Wherefore also God hath highly exalted him, and gave unto him the name which is above every name.") him food, and he ate it before their eyes.

"With What Body Do They Come?"

This is the best answer one could wish to Paul's question. "With what body do they come?" We shall indeed recognize our loved ones in the hereafter, even as Jesus' friends recognized him in his resurrection body. Death does not destroy personality. It redeems the body from the limitations and infirmities imposed upon it in this life. Jesus' resurrection is both the assurance and pattern of ours. This stupendous fact was to be the chief item of their testimony concerning their Lord: "Ye are witnesses of these things." These things confirmed all the scriptures, "written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning Christ."

Then, "while he blessed them, he parted from them, and was carried up into heaven, 'taking their human nature with him as the assurance that we, too, may come to God in our redeemed humanity since he has but gone to prepare a place for us, that where he is there we may be also. No wonder that they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy.' Whom God hath so highly exalted, we, too, should exalt, and joyfully serve."

ABIDING SPIRITUAL PRESENCE
Jesus thus suddenly appeared and disappeared, repeatedly, not only to comfort his disciples with the assurance of his resurrection from dead, but with the assurance that, though they might not see him in bodily form, he was nevertheless always with them, ready to break through into their presence in visible bodily form at any time. His disappearances and appearances were meant to wean them away from their former dependence on his bodily presence, and to teach them to depend on his abiding spiritual presence. His last word to them was, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

HIS RESURRECTION BODY
When Jesus came and appeared suddenly in the midst of his disciples on Easter night, as they were gathered together behind closed doors for fear of his enemies, he revealed to them his resurrection body, the same in form as they had known it, though changed in nature: "He himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you. . . . Why are ye troubled, and wherefore do reasonings arise in your hearts? See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself; handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye behold me having." At his request they gave

Mrs. Rodgers Entertains For Sister, Recent Bride

Many Guests Attend Lovely Party for Mrs. Gaiser

Hostesses in the city have been busy planning various kinds of entertainment for recent brides. One of the nicest of these parties was the dessert bridge given by Mrs. A. H. Rodgers, N. Court street, honoring her sister, Mrs. Floyd Gaiser of Centerville.

The affair was held at the American Hotel coffee shop Friday afternoon.

Baskets of garden flowers placed about the room made an attractive setting for the players.

The planned diversion was contract bridge played at twelve tables with trophies for high score being awarded Mrs. Wallace Crist and Miss Margaret Crist. Mrs. Gaiser was presented with a beautiful guest prize by the hostess.

A delicious dessert course was served at small tables centered with bud vases of blue larkspur and yellow coreopsis.

A number of out-of-town guests attended, including Mrs. George Weller and Mrs. Earl Weller, Centerville; Mrs. J. W. Trevillo, Frankfort; Mrs. J. J. Kelly, Mrs. Jesse Rowe, Mrs. Lydia Williams, and daughter Mary Jo, Miss Nellie Fogle, Mrs. Howard Fogle, Washington C. H.; Mrs. Elmer Junk, Mrs. Frank Thacher, New Holland and Mrs. Lester Coate, Columbus.

Other guests were Mrs. W. H. Nelson, Mrs. Earl Price, Mrs. Walter Denman, Mrs. Floyd Hook, Mrs. J. Wray Henry, Mrs. T. R. Burke, Mrs. C. G. Chaffin, Miss Blanche Valentine, Mrs. Mary Morris, Mrs. R. L. Bremer, Mrs. Crist, Mrs. Carl Bennett, Mrs. Tom Gilliland, Mrs. Henry Mader, Mrs. C. C. Watts, Mrs. Hervey Sweyer, Mrs. Allen Thornton, Mrs. L. B. Davison, Miss Winifred Parrett, Mrs. Harold Grant, Miss Marvene Howard, Miss Gladys Howard, Mrs. Russell Imler, Mrs. Karl Herrmann, Mrs. G. L. Schlear, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. George H. Adkins, Mrs. L. M. Mader, Miss Carrie Johnson, Mrs. Bryce Briggs, Mrs. Will Avia, Mrs. George Forast, Mrs. T. P. Brown, Mrs. Robert Denman, Mrs. L. J. Johnson, Misses Margaret and Martha Crist, Miss Charlotte Bell, and Mrs. Charles Caskey.

Vause-Cromley Wedding

At four o'clock, Saturday, Miss Anna Vause, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Vause of Ashville, became the bride of Dr. Curtis W. Cromley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cromley, also of Ashville.

The ceremony was solemnized at the St. Paul Lutheran church with Rev. E. H. E. Winteroff officiating. The church was beautifully decorated with basket lilies white phlox, white delphinium and gypsophila midst palms and ferns.

Attending the bride were Miss Anna Hay, maid of honor; Miss Martha Goeller, Circleville, and Miss Jean Vause of Ashville, bridesmaids. Dr. Cromley chose Mr. William Brodbeck of Columbus for best man. The ushers were Mr. Joseph Peters, Mr. Carl Scythorn, Mr. William Duvall and Mr. Hewitt Cromley, all of Ashville.

A choice selection of music was presented before the ceremony by Miss Chestora Dountz of Orient,

Serve over noodles which have been heated.

PASTOR IS FOREST RANGER

TULARE, Cal. (UP) — Rev. Arthur L. Rice, pastor of the first Congregational church, has just been reappointed forest ranger in the Yosemite National Park. This makes the fourth consecutive year that he has preferred to pass his annual vacation as a forest ranger.

nice green patina. These two statues had been gathering dust for the last 50 years.

Giuseppe Donato, one of the city's leading sculptors, stopped that by tearing his hair and threatening to call down the wrath of the gods. So George and John are now being severely left alone except they have shade these days. Trees have been planted in the plaza, probably the first since William Penn arrived.

Mayor Pushes It

The big push behind this desire for a shiny city is S. (for Samuel) Davis Wilson, the Yankee mayor. He was largely instrumental in getting the convention here in the first place.

Wilson is the first registered Democrat this town has had for a mayor since baseball was invented. Except that isn't quite fair to Wilson, for he was elected on a Republican ticket.

It's all very complicated. But politics are that way in Philadelphia. Wilson was elected city controller as a Democrat and then at the last election ran as a Republican, but he couldn't change his registration without swearing he had voted for a majority of Republican candidates at the previous election. That's the law, and since Wilson doesn't swear, nothing could be done about it.

Besides attempting to delight the eye of the delegates, the inner man also is being considered.

Plenty to Drink

The state liquor control board has stocked the state stores to overflowing, and if the delegates drink half the stuff on hand they'll go home and tell their wives they had a fine time in "Boston or Pittsburgh."

And if that doesn't appeal, there are two art museums, mid-gate automobile races, a thousand churches and Atlantic City 60 miles away.

No, the Liberty Bell won't be patched up for the occasion. Just dusted.

MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN

PATTERN 9909

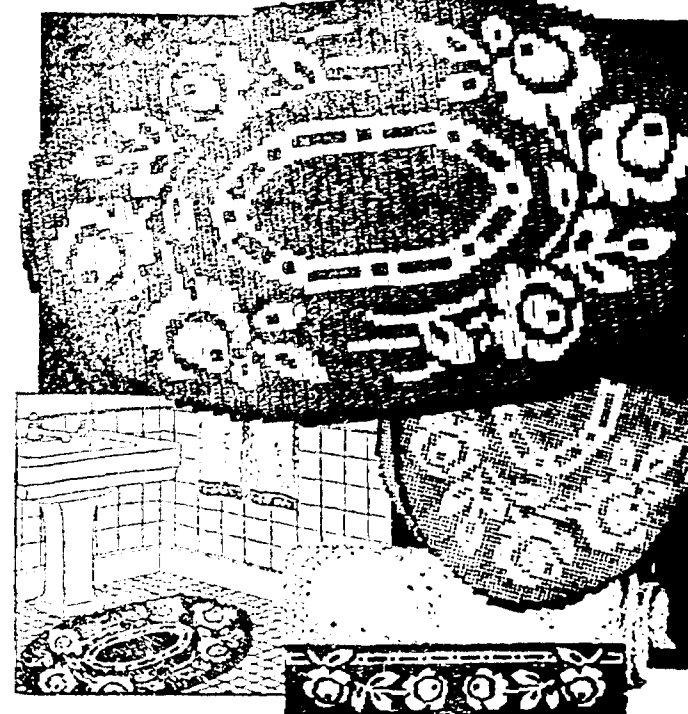

This sporty Marian Martin frock will tell its own story of coolness for out-in-the-sun activity! For you'll wear it, adore it, and constantly delight in its ever fresh smartness throughout the Summer months. Make it in gingham, muslin, pique, linen, or shantung. Unusual, the low V-neck with trim, flattering collar; chic, the pleated sleeves; and height-giving the center panel that terminates in two action pleats. Best of all, Marian Martin includes with the easy pattern a complete, Diagrammed Sew Chart which simplifies every step in the making of this engaging frock. You'll run it up in so brief a time, wear it on so many occasions—that you're sure to need more than one.

Pattern 9909 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric. Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and STREET NUMBER.

Be sure to order our MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN BOOK and see how to grace every summer occasion with smart, appropriate clothes! Models shown includes the latest vacation clothes, beach wear, play outfits for children, evening designs—even a whole lovely trousseau. Summer fabric and accessory hints, too. Send for this book now. BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. PATTERN FIFTEEN CENTS. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS FOR BOTH, WHEN ORDERED TOGETHER.

Send your order to The Herald, Pattern Department, 210 N. Court-st., Circleville, Ohio. When these patterns are ordered through The Herald they are subject to one cent sales tax. When ordered direct from the distributor no sales tax is collected.

Matched Crochet for Bedroom or Bath

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

Rug, Scarf and Towel Set to Make for Summer

PATTERN 5585

Do you expect to do your usual bit of Summer housework? Then begin now on some gay, new scatter rugs for bedroom and bath. You'll find the charm and durability of this handsome crocheted rug far exceeds the initial cost of a bit of candlewicking or rug wool (rugs also can be used). Its rose design may be worked out in two colors or white and a color. Use stung for the matching scarf design and towel borders.

In pattern 5585 you will find complete instructions and charts for making the rug, towel band and fillet scarf; an illustration of them and of the stitches needed; material requirements, and color suggestions. To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Herald Household Arts Dept., 210 N. Court-st., Circleville, O. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER. Send your order to The Herald, Pattern Department, 210 N. Court-st., Circleville, Ohio.

Broadcasters Prepare for Huge Democratic Meeting

One Network Arranges Six Pick-Up Microphones in Public Hall; Highlight to Be Acceptance

With THE REPUBLICAN convention history radio men have turned to the Democratic meeting in Philadelphia, their next great venture in this active year of 1936.

Many of the unique radio features of the G. O. P. conclave in Cleveland will be repeated. The network staffs of regular commentators and special interpreters will be much the same.

One network has arranged for six pick-up points in the Philadelphia convention hall and a seventh in an important downtown hotel where a suite has been converted into a studio for special convention programs of leading political analysts and experts.

THE DEMOCRATIC convention presents a longer, if not greater, task for the broadcasters than did the Republican meet, which concluded with the naming of a vice-presidential candidate.

Though the Philadelphia political pow-wow is expected to be a four-day affair as was the Cleveland confab, the radio men must remain on hand in the Quaker City an additional day, Saturday, to broadcast President Roosevelt's acceptance speech, to be given in Philadelphia's Franklin Field at 9 p. m., eastern time.

AMONG LEADING political lights who will be heard over the air during Democratic convention week will be:

Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, the keynoter.
Senator Joseph Robinson of Arkansas, the convention's permanent chairman.
President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner.

NOTES: Clara, Lu and Em return to the air, Friday, June 26, with Ted Fio Ritta and his orchestra over the NBC Blue network. . . . The same night you may hear Jessica Dragonette in solos by Tschakowsky and other noted composers via NBC Red. . . . The "Lavender and Old Lace" program is beginning its third year. WTAQ, Green Bay, Wis., should have labeled its limerick contest.

FIGHT FANS SING PRAISES OF MAX AS LOUIS FALLS

First Thoughts of New Heavy Contender Are of Wife 3,000 Miles Away

NEW YORK, June 20.—(UP)—Max Schmeling stood alone yesterday. Today he was a great sport hero, with fight fans singing his praises from Berlin's Unter Den Linden around the world to Shanghai's Bund.

A stack of telegrams several feet high piled on a table outside the room where slept the man who whipped Joe Louis.

The crowds who had camped at Louis' feet, flocked to Schmeling the moment he won.

Max, despite a badly swelled eye, was unutterably happy.

His first thoughts when he returned to his hotel, after a mad scene in his dressing room at Yankee stadium were for his wife—beautiful Anny Ondra, 3,000 miles away in Berlin.

Talked to Wife

While reporters clamored to listen, Max calmly went into a bedroom, locked the door and talked to his wife by transatlantic telephone for ten minutes.

When he came out, he looked over some of the telegrams.

"I don't even know these people," he said. "I never received so many messages in my life."

They came from all over the world—Berlin, Paris, Tokyo and London.

One from England said: "I bet everything I had on you—a Britisher."

"We could not stand him either, congratulations—the graduating class of Lakewood, N. J. high school." (That was where Louis trained).

Dallas, Tex., said—"all Dixie is proud of you."

From White Fish, Mont.—"to the yellowest fighter who ever came back we take our hats off."

While Schmeling was happily bewildered by his new-found popularity, little Joe Jacobs, his manager, was almost delirious.

When he returned to Schmeling's hotel, he said: "All you newspaper guys built Louis up as a super-fighter, who could name his round, his punch and his minute. Now I'm wonderin' what you're gonna say about the guy what licked your champion."

Plans to Wait

Max planned to sleep late today. Before retiring he said he would make no definite plans regarding the future until some time this afternoon.

NEW YORK, June 20.—(UP)—New York Giant pennant stock ebbed to its lowest level today and the St. Louis Cardinals' inimitable ditty Dean was firmly established as Giant Public Enemy No. 1.

In his third start against the Giants this season, Dizzy toyed with the Terry men yesterday to win his 13th victory of the season, 7 to 5. In St. Louis last trip the Giants bowed to Dizzy on Friday and again on Sunday when Dizzy insisted on taking Brother Paul's turn in the box because the latter had a sore arm.

"When it comes time for a Dean to pitch, a Dean is gonna pitch," Dizzy told Manager Frankie Frisch, stalling to the mound with only 24 hours rest.

About This And That In Many Sports

What of Joe Louis?

Schmeling wasn't afraid—He took all Louis had in the first three rounds then went after him—He was confident, in condition, and strong in his conviction that the Detroit Bomber could be hit with a right hand, and did he hit him?

—Never before has the janitor heard two broadcasters change their opinions so quickly as did Edwin C. Hill and Clem McCarthy on the national hook-up—It was all Louis and "How long will the fight last?" when they started, but a few solid right punches turned their feathers—What will become of Louis now?—He will not say "Enough" surely, because he might take the German in another fight—Jimmy Braddock, present champion, was one of the few who selected Schmeling to take the negro—The Braddock-Schmeling title bout should be a keen one—Little local money changed hands although a salesman for one of the city's utilities won eight bucks on a dollar wager with one of Louis' followers ***

This is Saturday, the day Tod Thompson, Pickaway Country Club professional, enters fast company—At 3 o'clock this afternoon he tees off as partner to Walter Hagen in a match over the Chillicothe Country Club course—Hagen is on his way to compete in the Western Open ***

"Get Record"—Helfrich

Mike Helfrich has a very appropriate answer to the challenge recently hurled at his New Holland Budweisers by the Darbyville Independents—"Get a record such as ours and we'll talk a championship series." is Mike's response to the Darbyville challenge, carried here a few days ago—New Holland, with Shadel Saunders in the saddle, has won 10 consecutive ball games—Columbus Cycles provide opposition Sunday at New Holland ***

Roger Catches Up

Here's the story of the trip to Hessel, Mich., at least as far as Elmer Roger is concerned: "He slept during the entire vacation" ***

DAIRY DEFEATS GIVENS 10 TO 2

Maloney Does Well for His Pickaway Team

Bob Maloney was in his old-time form Friday evening, while the Given Oils committed a number of errors permitting the Pickaway Dairy to win a 10 to 2 softball game. Bob Jones, twirling for the losers, was in ordinary form, but his mates didn't support him so well as Maloney's did him.

The defeat buried the Oils in the cellar with only one victory in seven games.

Monday's schedule starts with the Eschelman Feeds and the Eagles meeting.

Next week's schedule follows: Monday: Eschelman Feeds vs. Eagles.

Tuesday: Cities Service vs. Pickaway Dairy.

Wednesday: Given Oils vs. Eschelman Feeds.

Thursday: Circleville Oils vs. Pickaway Dairy.

Friday: Cities Service vs. Eagles.

TRAUTMAN DENIES UMP'S AGAINST LOUISVILLE 9

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 20.—(UP)—Charges American Association umpires had discriminated against the Louisville club were denied emphatically by President George M. Trautman after a two-way investigation.

Trautman came here after Manager Bureigh Grimes, who has been ejected from numerous games this season, protested to league headquarters that umpires had made intentional unfair rulings against the Colonels.

Trautman was in the stands last night as Grimes and Manager Fred Haney engaged in a fist fight that necessitated police interference.

Brown Bomber Picture of Despair; Wife Weeps

Goes to Red Sox

NEW YORK, June 20.—(UP)—From a conquering flatie idol Joe Louis was transformed today into a beaten, pitifully dejected colored boy who craved nothing but seclusion from the world which had heaped glory on his kinky head and piled gold at his feet.

Joe learned plenty about the fickleness of an idolizing public last night when he was annihilated by the so-called "has been," Maxie Schmeling. He was deserted by all but four loyal members of his own race—Trainer Jack Blackburn, co-managers, Julian Black and John Roxborough, and his recent bride, Marva.

Mike Turns Back

Joe was carried feet first from the ring to his dressing room. Even Mike Jacobs, the former obscure ticket speculator who rose to promotional fame on the power in Louis' brown fists, turned his back on the negro boy, in eagerness to get to the victor.

Marva sat outside the deserted dressing room door weeping silently, as trainer and managers attempted to restore him to consciousness. Newspapermen hurried to the quarters of the conqueror as soon as they had obtained brief statements through the bruised and swollen lips of the conquered.

"After that punch sent me down, I don't remember nothin'." Joe mumbled. "He suah hit me hard."

His brown features looking more like a leather basketball than a face, the mutilated mutilator, silently submitted to a doctor's cursory examination to determine whether he had suffered any fractures.

"No breaks," reported Dr. Vincent Nardiello, "but he has a badly bruised jaw, and both of his thumbs are sprained."

"Yes, he told me when he hurt 'em," interrupted Blackburn. "He complained about the left one after the fourth, and the right one in the ninth. He shudda had more tape on his hands."

The boxing commission made both fighters strip the tape from across their knuckles before the bout, leaving only a covering of gauze.

Picture of Despair

Stretched out on the ruddy table, eyes closed and fingers drumming by his side, the brown bomber was the picture of despair. He still couldn't stand alone 20 minutes after the fight when Blackburn had to half-carry "Chappie" to the showers. Head slumped on chest, the late "tan tornado" didn't even resemble a gentle breeze.

Managers Roxborough and Black were too bewildered to say much. "Of course we are not thinking of fighting for a while," Black said despondently. "A good long rest will do him plenty of good."

Trainer Blackburn, himself one of the greatest of all fighters, refused to lose confidence. "You mark my words," he said

MUNICH, Germany, June 20.—(UP)—Adolf Hitler himself cabled Maxie Schmeling congratulations immediately upon being awakened with the news that the former German heavyweight champion of the world had conquered the negro, Joe Louis.

Der Fuehrer also ordered flowers sent to Mrs. Schmeling in Berlin.

One of the most severe let-downs we have had in several years came from the wild lions of Ethiopia, whose advance agents assured us they would tear the invaders to shreds.

GOVERNMENT TO USE 50,000 ACRES FOR RECREATION

CAMPS FOR OHIO CHILDREN LISTED IN FOREST WORK

Lake Proposed in 13,600 Acre Ross-Hocking Conservation Job

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., June 20.—More than 50,000 acres of rugged and picturesque country will be made available for recreation use in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri through land conservation projects of the Resettlement Administration.

Of the 15 land conservation projects the Resettlement Administration has under way, six are being developed solely for recreational use and three others will be partly recreational.

Reforestation, wild life preservation, erosion control, grazing, and agricultural experimentation are other uses to which land is being put under the conservation program.

In Indiana, two recreation projects being developed include approximately 12,700 acres of land. One of these, the Winamac Recreational project, is in the northwest part of the state in Pulaski county along the Tippecanoe river. More than 300 men are at work on this project of some 6,000 acres in building camping facilities, shelter houses, bathing beaches, and cabins.

Others Under Way

A similar project is under way near Versailles in Ripley county where approximately 6,600 acres are being improved for a public recreational area. About 600 men are employed there in constructing playground and camp facilities.

In Illinois, adjoining the Pere Marquette State Park near Grafton in Jersey county, approximately 3,000 acres of hilly, wooded land are under development for recreational use, with more than 300 men employed.

In Missouri, three recreational projects are under way. The largest is at Lake of the Ozarks and embraces 14,500 acres including 90 miles of shore line. About 800 are at work on this project. The second, the Cuivre River Recreational project, near Troy, covers about 5,600 acres and is employing about 350 men. The third, the Montserrat Recreational project, near Knobnoster, in Johnston county, may ultimately cover about 5,000 acres. It is now employing about 300 men.

All of the recreation projects are being developed with the co-operation of the National Park Service.

In addition, the Resettlement administration is planning to devote a large part of the 13,600 acre Ross-Hocking forest project, near Chillicothe, Ohio, to recreational use. Two areas, one for general use and the other to accommodate organized children's camps, would be developed around a proposed lake to provide water sports and serve as a watershed.

Restoring 48,000 Acres
It is planned also to set aside substantial acreages for recreational use in the rugged hills of Brown county and Martin county in Indiana, where the Resettlement administration is restoring 48,000 acres of non-agricultural land to forestry and wild life preserves.

At the bus station a woman gave a little boy a tip for carrying her bag. The boy was silent. "Now," reminded the woman, "what should a polite little boy say to a lady who has given him a penny for carrying her grip?" "I know, ma'am," was the reply, "but I'm too polite to say it."

the entire nation. For the purpose of conducting these rallies simultaneously with the one at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, there is being created a nation-wide organization known as the Roosevelt Nominators. Its slogan is "I Want Roosevelt Again." Membership in the Roosevelt Nominators will be acquired by payment of $1 or more to the local organization. Every county Democratic organization will be asked to seek members.

Presented Roosevelt

The member's name, together with his contribution, will be registered on the Roosevelt Nominators Enrollment Roster which, after the convention, will be presented to President Roosevelt. The Roosevelt Nominators will accomplish two purposes. First, they will have raised by the very day of the President's nomination, a substantial part of the national campaign fund, and second, they will launch that campaign with rallies in cities and towns throughout the country by giving assemblages of local Democrats, and all those who want to have a part in President Roosevelt's re-election, the opportunity of hearing and receiving inspiration from the President's address of acceptance.

reached the bank, she dived in fully clothed.

Beside the boat, she went under water and brought up Marion Kelly, 8. As she rose, a small girl clinging to the boat for her, screaming "take me in!"

Miss Burnoe feared the child might let loose from the boat in hysteria. With the little Kelly girl held up by one, she slapped the panicky other child soundly and repeatedly.

"Hang on," she said fiercely. "Hang on."

The girl subsided and Miss Burnoe swam ashore with the Kelly child.

The Rev. Kenneth M. Cassens of Lubec brought another body up.

Minister Helps

The Rev. Kenneth M. Cassens of Lubec brought another body up, meanwhile, and other adults wading out neck deep helped both the rescuers ashore. Miss Burnoe dived in again. London, with Barbara Taylor and Leam Wilcox, were paddling the boat ashore, so Miss Burnoe searched the bottom once more. She brought up the body of Aaron Mahar. Another child, Barbara Tyler, 11, swam ashore by herself.

Miss Burnoe would have gone out again, but was so exhausted that bystanders restrained her. Artificial respiration revived Marion Kelly but was futile on the others. All the bodies were recovered in two hours.

The dead were Daniel McCurdy,

Evelyn Mahar, Rayman Knowles, Ronald Eaton, Aaron Mahar, Doris Small, Christine Sleight, Merle Lewis, Jerome Kenney, Milton Dinamore, Glen Morey, and Frank Reynolds.

PAUL D. HELWAGEN, automobile dealer, bought a new shirt a week or so ago from an uptown dealer. He liked it very much, until it was washed.

After it had been ironed Mr. Helwagen put on the shirt, and found the cuffs were nearly to his elbows. It was only a few minutes before Helwagen was on his way to the store from which the shirt was purchased.

"Look here," he said, "I paid good money for this shirt and now it has shrunk until I can hardly get in it."

"Let me see it," replied Dorthy Courtwright. After an examination he denied the store had sold the shirt.

Helwagen had, by mistake, put on a shirt of his father-in-law, George M. Fitzpatrick.

have from Roosevelt totals the few thousands of votes necessary to deliver vital electoral votes to the Republican ticket headed by Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas. There was general agreement that the New Deal would be more likely than the G. O. P. to provide recruits for Lemke and Father Coughlin.

New Dealers will not be upset about third party movements, however, unless there is a coalition of minority groups in opposition to Mr. Roosevelt. New Dealers are confident now that they will have election day support of the La Follette Progressive party, which is dominant in Wisconsin, and of Gov. Floyd B. Olson's Minnesota Farmer-Laborites. Any movement in Wisconsin or Minnesota to organize against Mr. Roosevelt in the presidential campaign would be disturbing to Farley and other New Deal strategists.

Smith, Raskob Discounted

The conservative bolt has been discounted and is no more alarming to the New Deal command today than some months ago. Such past-potent Democrats as Alfred E. Smith, John J. Raskob, James A. Reed and Joseph B. Ely will not support Mr. Roosevelt, but they were counted out long ago.

New Dealers are in control of the convention which will convene here next Tuesday. Party bigwigs are arriving on every train. Hotels are filling and streets are gay with red, white and blue signs of welcome. There may be a skirmish over abrogation of the rule requir-
